WELCOME TO THE GRADUATE COLLEGE

It is a pleasure to welcome you to The Graduate College at Texas State University. As a graduate student, you are considered a valuable asset to the diverse university community. The information in this handbook has been prepared to answer the most often-asked questions of entering graduate students. We hope you will find this resource guide helpful as you pursue your graduate studies! If you have a question that is not addressed here or in the Graduate Catalog, please call The Graduate College at 512.245.2581, email us at gradcollege@txstate.edu, or contact the graduate advisor of your degree program. Please accept my best wishes as you pursue your graduate degree.

Sincerely,
Dr. Andrea Golato,
Dean, The Graduate College

MISSION STATEMENT

Texas State University is a public, student-centered Emerging Research University dedicated to excellence in serving the educational needs of the diverse population of Texas and the world beyond.

The mission of The Graduate College is to provide vision, leadership and direction for excellence in graduate education at Texas State University with the aim of providing the appropriate infrastructure and learning environment for the training of innovative and successful scholars, teachers and professionals. The Graduate College does so by:

a. articulating, promoting and supporting the highest standards of quality in graduate education in keeping with the University’s overall mission of teaching, research and public service;

b. constructing and maintaining an environment conducive to successful graduate education in concert with all graduate programs;

c. supporting programs’ efforts to foster a diverse student population who participate in a global society;

d. promoting and supporting rigor in graduate education;

e. providing key process and procedure guidance and support to graduate programs from admission to graduation;

f. aiding in student recruitment, application processing, policy monitoring and degree auditing;

g. leading initiatives designed to provide best practices in graduate education leading to timely degree completion;

h. providing graduate student support for creative and scholarly activities;

i. offering professional development opportunities for graduate students at key stages in their graduate career; and

j. engaging in research on graduate education.

The stakeholders of The Graduate College include students, faculty and staff involved in graduate education at Texas State University.
HONOR CODE

Since 1899, Texas State University has been an institution of higher learning that assists men and women in their pursuit of academic excellence. One of the cornerstones of this effort has always been to provide a quality education in an environment that is conducive to success. In order to achieve this goal, the university must ensure that academic integrity remains a permanent fixture in all aspects of academic life. It is for this reason that Texas State has adopted an honor code, which can be found in UPPS 07.10.01.

HISTORY

The Graduate College has been in existence at Texas State University since June 15, 1935, and has continued to expand its degree offerings in order to meet the needs of its students ever since.

In the late 1930s, the Southwest Texas State Teachers College Graduate School began by offering a master of arts degree and a major in education. The master of arts program was started because of the growing demand by people from the surrounding areas and the public school systems.

In the summer of 1936, the first master of arts courses were offered. In 1938–39, majors were offered in the following fields: education, social science, science and mathematics, and language and literature.

In 1996, the first doctoral program was authorized by the Board of Regents in geographic education and environmental geography with the first doctorates awarded in 2000.

Today, The Graduate College offers more than 100 graduate master’s and doctoral programs in the following colleges: Applied Arts, Education, Fine Arts and Communication, Health Professions, Liberal Arts, McCoy College of Business Administration, and Science and Engineering. A variety of graduate degrees and certification programs are also available at the Texas State Round Rock Campus in Round Rock, Texas.

Our nationally recognized graduate programs draw applicants from across the country and around the globe. Our faculty members are renowned teachers and active researchers. Designations include:

- Emerging Research
- R2 Carnegie Designation DIVERSITY

At Texas State University, diversity and inclusion are major university goals. Texas State supports a diverse faculty, staff and student body, reflecting the diversity of the state. For more information on the students enrolled at Texas State, please visit ir.txstate.edu/ir-self-service.

COMMUNICATION

Email Usage and Expectations
You are expected to access your Texas State email as soon as possible. ITAC provides information on how to set up your NetID and email account. University offices use Texas State email as the official means of communication; therefore, it is your responsibility to read all communications sent from The Graduate College and other university offices to your Texas State University email account (XX@txstate.edu). If you choose to forward your mail to a personal email address, please add Texas State accounts, including The Graduate College, as a safe sender.

GradBulletin
The Graduate College’s primary form of communication, the GradBulletin, is sent to all graduate students on campus every Friday. The GradBulletin features important information related to your degree including funding opportunities, deadline reminders, workshop topics and other events in the Texas State graduate community. It is your responsibility to read the GradBulletin and to act appropriately on the information provided.

COMMUNITY-BUILDING

Grads Around the Globe
You can participate in the “Grads Around the Globe” contest by taking a picture wearing a Graduate College or Running With the Graduate Deans shirt in an interesting locale (away from campus) and sharing it on social media. In tweets, mention @TXSTGradCollege and use the hashtag #gcglobalgrads; in Facebook posts, tag The Graduate College to make sure credit is received for the photo. Photos will be collected and winners will be selected throughout the year.

gradcollege.txstate.edu/events/global-grads

Graduate Student Appreciation Week
Graduate Student Appreciation Week is held every April to recognize the contributions, impact and value of our graduate and professional students. The week is filled with a variety of events, including workshops, socials, wellness classes and recreational opportunities.

gradcollege.txstate.edu/events/gsaw

Running With the Graduate Deans
Join the graduate deans in a series of local running events organized by various non-university groups and organizations in San Marcos. For every graduate student, faculty or staff member who runs/walks the race wearing our technical shirt, we will put funds in the amount of the race fee into our scholarship account for the coming year.

gradcollege.txstate.edu/events/running

FUNDING

External Funding Coordinator
The Graduate College has an in-house external funding coordinator dedicated to helping students secure external funding opportunities for graduate study, thesis/dissertation research and other projects.

gradcollege.txstate.edu/funding/external Graduate Assistantships
A limited number of graduate teaching and research assistantships are available. Inquiries should be addressed to your department, but general information and policies can be found on our website. gradcollege.txstate.edu/funding/assistantships

Graduate College and Celebrity Classic Scholarships
The Graduate College Scholarship is available for newly admitted and continuing graduate students. The award amount is $1,000 per semester. Scholarships are awarded for the academic year and disbursed on a per-semester basis. gradcollege.txstate.edu/funding/scholarships/gc-scholarship

The Celebrity Classic Scholarship is available for newly admitted and continuing students. Awards of $1,500 per semester are given for up to three academic years, provided that a 3.5 cumulative GPA has been maintained on all graduate course work leading to the current degree and that enrollment requirements have been satisfied. gradcollege.txstate.edu/funding/scholarships/celebrity-classic

Graduate Student Travel Funds
We provide partial funding to support your travel to participate in professional conferences. To be eligible for these funds, you must have an accepted conference paper, poster, professional presentation or performance/exhibit and must be enrolled (and in good academic standing) during the semester the conference is held. gradcollege.txstate.edu/funding/travel

Thesis/Dissertation Research Support Fellowships
Doctoral Research Support Fellowships support graduate student research at the doctoral level. Each award of up to $5,000 is to be used to cover expenses directly related to conducting dissertation research. gradcollege.txstate.edu/funding/scholarships/doctoral-research

Thesis Research Support Fellowships support graduate student research at the master’s level. Each award of up to $2,000 is to be used to cover expenses directly related to conducting thesis research. gradcollege.txstate.edu/funding/scholarships/thesis-research
PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

3MT® Competition
The 3MT® Competition is a research communication competition that prepares you to present a brief but compelling oration on your research and its significance to a non-specialist audience. The skills learned in this competition relate directly to job interviews, funding opportunities and applications and interactions with individuals outside of academia.
gradcollege.txstate.edu/events/3mt

International Research Conference
The Annual International Research Conference for Graduate Students provides an opportunity for you to build your presentation skills and your résumé by presenting original research to the community of scholars and professionals at Texas State.
gradcollege.txstate.edu/events/conference

Shop Talks
We host a series of free workshops throughout the year that focus on various elements relating to your degree. The Shop Talks fall under three categories: degree success, research development and career prep. Workshops are presented on both the San Marcos and Round Rock campuses, and most are live-streamed or in webinar format.

GRADUATE COLLEGE POLICIES

GRADUATE CATALOG
The Graduate Catalog provides information about various graduate education policies and procedures and includes information about registration and course credit, grading policies, degree information and tuition and fees.
mycatalog.txstate.edu/graduate
CHANGE OF MAJOR
If you would like to change your major program, you must complete a new application and pay the application fee. Acceptance into one graduate program does not ensure acceptance into another graduate program.

gradcollege.txstate.edu/programs

CHANGE OF MINOR/CONCENTRATION
If you wish to change your minor, you must complete a change-of-minor/concentration form.

gradcollege.txstate.edu/docs/change-minor-concentration.pdf

COMPREHENSIVE EXAM
All candidates for graduate degrees must pass one or more comprehensive examinations, either written, oral, or both, covering at least the field of concentration and the thesis or dissertation if one is written. If you are seeking more than one degree, you must take a comprehensive examination for each degree major.

COURSE LOAD
Taking nine semester hours is classified as full-time enrollment each term. The maximum graduate course load is 15 semester hours during the fall and spring terms and 12 semester hours during the summer. Program offerings vary during the summer. Overloads require written approval from your graduate advisor and the dean of The Graduate College before registering.

DEGREE AUDIT
A degree audit identifies the courses that are required in order to obtain a particular degree at Texas State and guides you in selecting courses for registration. Your degree audit may be accessed at the beginning of the first term of enrollment through Texas State Self-Service. Contact your graduate advisor to discuss degree options or to ask questions regarding your degree audit. All course substitutions require prior written approval from your graduate advisor and the dean of The Graduate College.

ssb.txstate.edu

DEGREE COMPLETION TIME LIMITS
If you are enrolled in a master's degree program, completion of your degree is required within six years from the date of your initial enrollment. Completion dates for doctoral programs vary and include time limits for both course work and dissertation.
DISSERTATION INFORMATION
All doctoral students, with the exception of physical therapy students, are required to complete a dissertation. Consult with your doctoral program director regarding all program-specific requirements related to the dissertation.
gradcollege.txstate.edu/students/thesis-dissertation

GUIDE TO PREPARING AND SUBMITTING A THESIS OR DISSERTATION
This guide provides information on procedures, deadlines, required approvals, style and formatting. In addition, you will find information about helpful thesis and dissertation workshops.

SOCIAL MEDIA USE AND CYBERSECURITY
The use of social media such as Facebook, YouTube, Twitter and blogs has become commonplace. As you may know, social media content plays an important role in your education as well as in your future career prospects. Objectionable content may even affect the likelihood of obtaining a graduate assistantship. You are urged to use caution when publishing information on public sites as more companies are screening prospective employees’ use of social media sites before making hiring decisions.
umarketing.txstate.edu/resources/social-guidelines

As a graduate student, you will share various types of information online and through social media and thus need to be aware of cybersecurity issues.

THESIS INFORMATION
If you are pursuing a thesis, consult with the graduate advisor of your program regarding all program-specific requirements related to the thesis.
gradcollege.txstate.edu/students/thesis-dissertation
TRANSFER CREDIT
If you have taken graduate-level course work at another regionally accredited institution, certain courses may be permitted to apply to your Texas State degree. Transfer work will be accepted only if it bears a letter grade of “B” (or numerical equivalent) or higher. A grade of “credit,” “pass,” “satisfactory,” etc. is unacceptable. Transfer work will not be accepted for graduate degree credit from another institution if such courses are designated as non-degree, background, preparatory, etc. Courses must not have been, and will not be, used for credit toward another degree. Courses taken at other institutions will not be included in the grade point average (GPA) at Texas State. The Texas State GPA will be the only GPA calculated toward graduation.

LIBRARY RESOURCES
UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES
The University Libraries provide key services and resources that fuel the success of research and innovation at Texas State University. University Libraries comprise three facilities and two prestigious collections that are continually evolving to meet the needs of the growing university and an ever-changing, technology-driven world. ulibraries.txstate.edu/

The Albert B. Alkek Library offers library patrons the opportunity to explore, create and discover in an expansive, seven-story building at the heart of the San Marcos campus that is packed with resources, technology and spaces for silent, quiet or collaborative research and study. Library staffers organize many workshops and activities throughout the year that support academic and research literacy and insight, offer opportunities for hands-on innovation and creation, and provide social and stress-relieving interplay. The Alkek is continuously evolving to add new features and technology that serve the campus and community and will be undergoing a year and a half renovation starting in the fall of 2018. The Alkek Library website provides convenient 24/7 access to information about library services and resources.

library.txstate.edu

ROUND ROCK CAMPUS LIBRARY SERVICES
The Round Rock Campus Library (RRC Library) supports the research and information needs of faculty and students at the growing Round Rock Campus. Subject Librarians and library assistants are on site to help guide research and support students and faculty in Round Rock. Materials from the Alkek Library can be delivered so that the RRC benefits from all the resources of a large university library in the intimate and comfortable environment of the RRC Library. The library is located in room 255 of the Avery Building and makes resources, computers and printers available to the campus community. For more information including hours and other services, visit the RRC Library website or call the library at 512.716.4700.

Find your Subject Librarian
Subject librarians are available to help students, faculty and staff with their research needs. Schedule a research consultation with your subject librarian at the Alkek or RRC Library to help you with your research topic, developing good search strategies, and/or to orient you to navigating the library for a successful graduate school experience. To ensure availability, request your consultation with at least three days’ notice.

Geographic Information Systems (GIS) Services
The GIS Services at the Alkek Library serve and assist with the geospatial needs of graduate students in the following ways: support (in the form of guidance or directions) for GIS data-related course work, research and teaching. Public service via in-person consultation, chat, phone and email on geospatial needs is available.
guides.library.txstate.edu/GIS

Graduate Article Delivery Service (GRADS)
University Libraries deliver electronic copies of articles from our print journal collection right to your desktop. This service, called Graduate Article Delivery Service or GrADS, is available to all Texas State graduate students. Simply log into your ILLiad interlibrary loan account and fill in the article citation information to request any print article owned by the library.

Research Databases and Journals
Texas State faculty, students and staff have convenient remote online access to many research databases and journals. Databases are listed on the library website and are arranged by type, subject and alphabetically by name.
catalog.library.txstate.edu/search/y

Using Other Libraries: Texshare and Interlibrary Loan
Graduate student research needs are often more extensive and may require access to items not owned by the University Libraries. In the event you need something we do not own, there are options for getting the materials needed to support your work.

• One way is to get a TexShare card. This is available at the circulation desk or you can request one online to be mailed to you. TexShare provides you with the ability to check out books from most college and university libraries as well as major public libraries throughout Texas. For more information about the TexShare card, contact the circulation desk at 512.245.3681.

library.txstate.edu/about/departments/circ/texshare-cards

- Another convenient method to get materials not owned by the university is via Interlibrary Loan (ILL), a service that is available free for Texas State faculty, students and staff. Library users must register through ILLiad in order to use this service. When you register, you will create an ILLiad account/profile that will maintain your user information and allow you to submit requests easily when you need to do so. The web-based request form is convenient for users and can be filled out 24/7 from anywhere. If you need personal assistance, you can reach the ILL staff Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., at 512.245.4893.

library.txstate.edu/services/interlibrary-loan

STUDY SPACES
The Alkek Library provides a variety of study spaces for students to explore, create and discover. Tables and seating areas are located on floors one through seven. Carrels and small group rooms are located on floors five, six and seven. The fifth and sixth floors have designated quiet areas. There is a reservable study room available only to faculty and graduate students on the third floor that accommodates up to 12 people. This room will remain open through the fall of 2018 and will close in early 2019 to be replaced by a graduate student study center, complete with kitchen, study rooms and large presentation or workshop space. This new space is expected to open in the summer of 2019. Graduate students may request lockers located on the sixth floor for one semester on a first-come, first-served basis. Contact Circulation at 512.245.3681 for more information about study areas in the library, or visit our website to reserve a room:

TOOLS

Bibliographic Management: Refworks and Endnote
The University Libraries provide access to two of the top bibliographic/citation management tools that allow you to store citations, abstracts, and articles from the library databases, web searches, or other resources you retrieve when doing your research.

- Ref Works is a web-based bibliographic management tool. It offers the flexibility of accessing it from any computer with an internet connection.
• EndNote is a desktop and web-based tool for publishing and managing bibliographies, citations and references on the Windows and Macintosh desktop.

guides.library.txstate.edu/citationmanagement

Computer Workstations
The Alkek Library has an abundance of computer and print workstations. The largest number of these can be found on the 2nd (main) floor of the library. These include Mac and PC computers running several software applications including the Microsoft Office and Adobe Suites as well as specialized software such as sophisticated statistical-analysis software. These resources provide the tools to prepare professional papers and presentations.

library.txstate.edu/computers

Laptop computers may be checked out at the Technology Help Desk located near the center of the 2nd floor of the Alkek Library. A user must sign an Agreement for Use of Laptop Computers and surrender his/her Texas State ID card until the computer is returned. You can also bring your own laptop to the library and connect to the university’s secure wireless connection.

TRANSPORTATION SERVICES

BOBCAT BOBBIES
To promote safety on campus and to provide a courtesy to all students, faculty and staff, the University Police Department (UPD) offers a Bobcat Escort Service (Bobcat Bobbies) to and from the library and originating from any location on campus (e.g., parking lot, residence hall and cafeteria). The service operates from dark to 1 a.m. (with some extended hours). If you wish to have the uniformed escort accompany you, call 512.245.7233. Escorts carry a radio and may contact the UPD in case of emergency.

On campus and have a dead battery? Out of gas? Need help? Call the University Police Department at 512.245.2805, Monday through Sunday.
CAMPUS MAPS
You can download the campus map from this website: maps.txstate.edu.
A building index is also provided.

PARKING SERVICES
Parking rules are enforced every day of the year; therefore, you are required to register any vehicle you drive and park on campus with Parking Services and purchase the appropriate color parking permit. All lots and streets where parking is permitted are color coded by zone. If you live off campus, you may purchase a Purple Commuter/Perimeter Permit. The Purple Commuter/Perimeter Permit allows vehicles to park in the Purple commuter and perimeter lots and Speck Garage (C13) at any time.

The online vehicle registration process can be accessed through the Parking Services website or via Catsweb. Please register online prior to bringing a vehicle on campus. Permits will only be mailed if the vehicle registration process is completed online.

PRIDE, LANDMARKS AND TRADITIONS
Texas State University Seal: The Lone Star motif of the Texas State University Seal is inspired by the seal of the state of Texas, which established the university in 1899. Texas State’s seal features a lone, faceted five-point star embraced by a wreath of native oak leaves, symbolizing strength, and laurel leaves, symbolizing victory in knowledge. Both are indigenous to this area and abound on campus. The university name encircles the wreath and the star, and a rope border symbolizes Texas’ pioneer heritage.

Alumni House/Center for Student Retention: Constructed in 1896, the Alumni House is one of the oldest buildings on campus. In the 1920s, the owner of the house rented rooms to university students, among them being former President Lyndon B. Johnson. The house was designated as a Recorded Texas Historic Landmark in 1968 and as a National Register of Historic Places in 1983. The building was renamed the Center for Student Retention in 2014.
Alma Mater: The Texas State school song, “Alma Mater,” was written by former faculty member Jessie Sayers in the early 1900s to the tune of “Ancient of Days,” a hymn written by J. Albert Jeffery in 1886.

Bobcat Mascot: The Bobcat, a native wildcat known for its fierceness and courage, has been the mascot of Texas State since 1921.

Bobcat Statue: Commissioned in 2007 by the Associated Student Government after a student vote, the bronze bobcat statue was dedicated Oct. 18, 2008, prior to the Homecoming football game.

Bobcat Victory Ball: Located outside of Texas State’s Bobcat Stadium, the Bobcat Victory Ball sits on a marble base outside of the main entrance of the End Zone Complex. Everyone entering the complex is encouraged to rub the ball for good luck and personal success.

Chautauqua Hill: The steep hill on which Old Main sits is known as Chautauqua Hill, named for the Chautauqua Movement in the late 19th century. The popular educational and social movement sought to educate students while also entertaining them through lectures, debates, concerts and plays. From about 1885–95, a large tabernacle-like structure seating 1,500 occupied the pinnacle where Old Main now stands.

Fighting Stallions: The Fighting Stallions statue is home to the university’s designated free-speech zone. Students have made it a tradition to rub the 17-foot-tall sculpture for good luck before exams.

LBJ Statue: Unveiled in September 2006, the near-life-size statue depicts a young Lyndon B. Johnson, 36th president of the United States and former Texas State student.

School Colors: The school colors are maroon and metallic gold — inspired by the official school flower, the native gaillardia (Indian blanket).

Sewell Park: In 1917, the U.S. Bureau of Fisheries leased the college four acres of land along the San Marcos River. It was called Riverside Park until 1946, when it was renamed in honor of Dr. S.M. “Froggy” Sewell. The park’s current look is the result of a renovation in 1984. Sewell is now a favorite student hangout.

Victory Star: The five-point star atop Jackson Hall, the tallest building on campus, is lit when the Bobcats win an athletic event or during graduation.
